"Steel Vine" Bamboo Rods

"Steel Vine" cane is a light colored close grained variety of bamboo of strong fibre. It has great strength and elasticity, making it a durable rod of good action. Made of six strips of cane, glued, as in a split bamboo rod, and rounded. All are three pieces with extra tip.

The "Fontinalis"—A light and delicate fly rod for whipping streams, yet strong enough to stand the play of gamey fish when in the hands of a careful angler. It has a cork hand grasp and full Nickel Silver mountings, including the snake guides. Put up in a velvet covered wood form and bag. Weight, 4 ounces. Length, 8 feet Each $14.50

Steel Vine Stripping Rods With Reversible Handle

These rods are especially recommended for "stripping," viz.: the reel being used below the hand, and the line drawn from the reel by hand to make any length cast desired. Nickel Silver Mountings, Reversible Cork Grip, Hand-made Nickel Silver Bell Guides. Agate first Guide and Agate Tops. Put up in a velvet covered wood form and bag. Weight less than one ounce to the foot. Length, 9 or 9½ feet. Each $21.00

The "Abbey" Steel Vine Rods

With cork hand grasp, nickel plated mountings, welted ferrules and put up in a flannel covered form and bag. With "Chinchilla" pattern closely wound silk windings. Strong, with good action. A dependable rod at a popular price.
