(FISHING TACKLE) LTD.

Cummins policy is to supply ALL Fishermen with ALL their requirements

We make the best of fishing tackle but we also appreciate that tastes differ, so we also supply the best of other makes as well. This does not mean the most expensive. We insist on quality, first and foremost; but in doing this we realize that people do not want expensive tackle when learning or for children as they grow up and hence rods such as our "Series B" and "Boys" tackle which you will find listed. These, though cheaper, are the best obtainable at the price and for the job.

It is our policy to produce from time to time a more elaborate catalogue with many articles of interest to fishermen and so on; but this is expensive to produce and cannot be done every year. This present catalogue only attempts to set out concisely our general range of tackle and is not intended as a substitute for our full catalogue but rather a supplement thereto, to keep you up to date. It shows, briefly, most of our stock in tabular form for ready reference; we are always, however, getting new items so if you do not see what you want, please write.

Guns, Rifles, Shooting equipment, Wedding presents, etc.

These are not fully listed in this catalogue, but some details will be found on page 26. We carry a full stock however.

MONOFILAMENT NYLON LINES

These tough but tractable lines are very popular for use with fixed spool reels, and in the finer sizes for cast making. For the convenience of those who are still confused by " breaking strains " or micrometer readings as opposed to the more familiar " x " measurement used for so long with gut, we give below a table comparing the thickness with the old gut measurement. It should be remembered, however, that at a given thickness nylon is considerably stronger than gut, so that for a required strength finer nylon can be used.

Platil.

These German monofilament lines are well in advance of anything yet known. Perfectly round, smooth and pliable, and with a higher breaking strain, size for size, than any other. The ' stretch ' is greatly reduced, and a non-flash water finish makes the line as nearly invisible as humanly possible. Packed in 4 x 25yd. spools, 50yd. spools or 100yd. spools. Diameter slightly less for corresponding breaking strain than Racine below.

Cummins Flies

Awarded Three Prize Medals and Three Diplomas of Honour at the International Fisheries Exhibition. 1883.

The following listed flies are tied as near to the natural insect as it is possible to make them. Our flies are very sparsely dressed, great care being taken to prevent bulkiness.

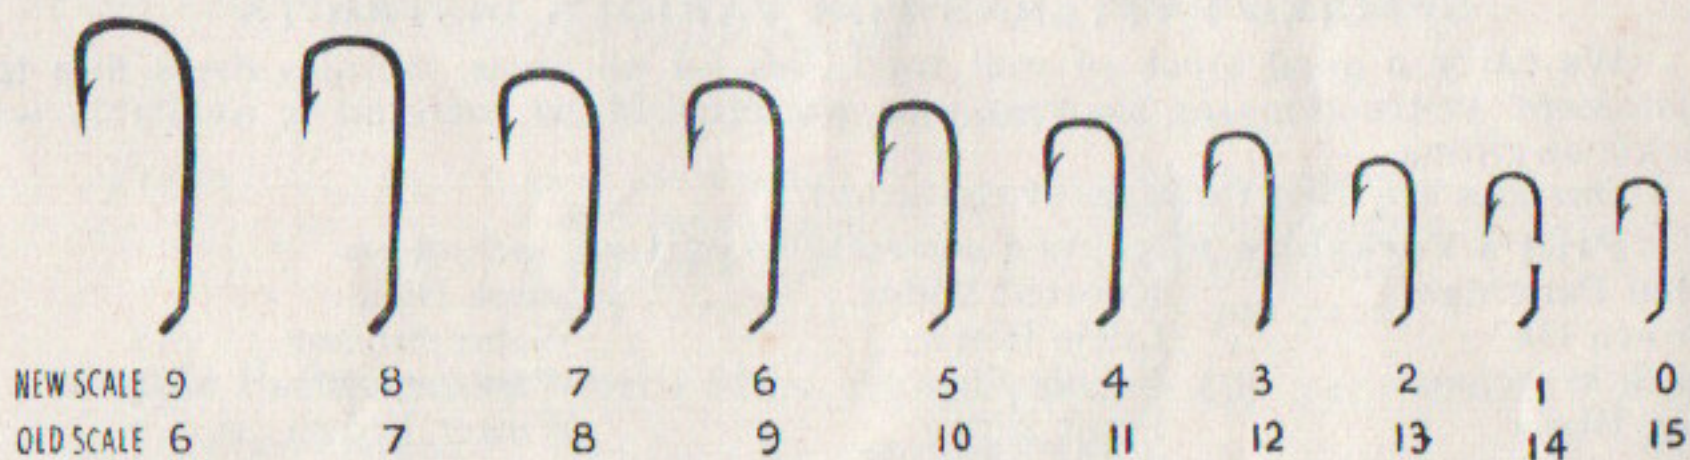

Spider or hackled flies are excellent for clear water fishing, in fact, many anglers use them with great success throughout the whole season. In the spring months, flies dressed on sizes 2 and 3 hooks are best, but for the summer fishing, sizes 0 and 1 have a great advantage. Always remember, the size of the fly should be in accordance with the size and condition of the water.

There has always tended to be confusion between the "Old" and "New" scales of hook sizes, so we give below the conversion table. Unfortunately a few tackle makers persist in "converting" at a different stage to the rest, so for the convenience of our customers we have illustrated the principal types of hook in their actual sizes. Will all customers please be careful to order all sizes in accordance with our illustrations ?

"New" (Kendal) Scale: 000 00 0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 etc.

"Old" (Redditch) Scale: 17 16 15 14 13 12 11 10 9 8 7 etc.

Down-eyed sneck hook sizes.
